

OUR MISSION

WMU makes disciples of Jesus who live on mission

Woman's Missionary Union started in 1888 to support missionaries, the work of the denomination and to provide missions discipleship and involvement opportunities for the entire church. Sisters Who Care is a missions group of Woman's Missionary Union that aims to reach women in African American churches for cooperative missions. Sisters Who Care seeks to involve individuals in responding to God as they learn about missions, pray for missions efforts, support missions work, do missions and tell about Jesus. As the African American church has always been on mission, WMU gives an additional opportunity in providing structure, connecting points and a global perspective.

MAKE IT PLAIN!

In 2020, Sisters Who Care, Hamilton Baptist Association sponsored a SWC Conference.

HOW ARE GROUPS ORGANIZED?

As Baptist churches are autonomous and therefore led by the local congregation, Sisters Who Care groups can organize as the local church deems most appropriate for that congregation.

Sisters Who Care can also be organized by an association or by the state WMU office.

Sisters Who Care groups in the church:

- Meet regularly
- Pray for missionaries
- Promote the missions offerings of the denomination
- Organize to teach missions to children
- Offer missions involvement opportunities for the congregation
